Broward League of Cities Installs 2011-2012 President

Cooper City Mayor Debby Eisinger Assumes Presidency of Organization

COOPER CITY, Fla. (May 23, 2011) – On Thursday, May 19, the Broward League of Cities installed Cooper City Mayor Debby Eisinger as its new president along with the 2011-2012 Board of Directors during a ceremony in Cooper City. Mayor Eisinger succeeds Coral Springs Mayor Roy Gold as president.

“The honor of holding public office is a most rewarding experience, offering opportunities to initiate positive change and succeed in making a meaningful difference in the lives of others,” said Debby Eisinger. “The Broward League of Cities has served as a valuable resource in assisting local municipal officials, public employees and the local business community in identifying solutions to the common challenges cities face.”

During her tenure as president, Mayor Eisinger will work with elected officials representing Broward County’s 31 municipalities and associate members from various companies throughout the county to resolve the important issues facing residents. Having served as the Education Committee Chair for the Broward League of Cities, she has placed education among her topline initiatives with programs such as the Scholarship for Government Studies and the Student Ambassador Program while continually championing education at the municipal, county and state levels.

Recognizing that education is a life-long commitment, Mayor Eisinger also has included leadership development and training for elected officials among her goals for the coming year through a variety of topical workshops and informative sessions.

Joining Mayor Eisinger in leading the Broward League of Cities is the newly elected executive board. Each member will serve on the board of directors for a one year term:

- First Vice President – (Fort Lauderdale Vice Mayor Bobby DuBose)
- Second Vice President – (Davie Councilmember Susan Starkey)
- Treasurer – (Wilton Manors Mayor Gary Resnick)
- Secretary – (Hollywood Vice Mayor Patricia Asseff)

“With the installment of Mayor Eisinger and the new board of directors, the Broward League of Cities will continue its mission of raising awareness of issues facing residents while providing resolutions and guidance,” said Rhonda Calhoun, executive director of the Broward League of Cities. “Our executive board stands ready to serve Broward County’s residents and restore faith in local leadership during the 2011-2012 year. We look forward to representing our community’s interests at the local, state and federal levels.”
